

Gökhan Urul: A frame packing method to improve the schedulability on CAN and CAN-FD(2015)

With over 100 ECU's in a car, Signals exchanging between ECU's should be well defined and packed into frames.

Proposed “Advanced Period Based Algorithm” is always better in bandwidth utilization and at the same time comes with the lowest computation time among existing frame packing approaches.